FREE & ACCEPTED MASONS

Brethren,

I hope everyone is having a wonderful summer! I would like to thank all the family and friends that came out for our Annual Picnic! It was a great time for fellowship. A special thanks to Brother Brad Cisar for hosting the picnic at his community pavilion and Brother Otis Manis for cooking the Ribs and Chicken.

We are going to be busy this September, October and November. The second meeting in September we will be conferring a Master Mason Degree followed by an all Past Masters Fellow Craft Degree the first meeting in October. We would like to use the Fellow Craft Degree as a learning experience for the younger brothers. If you have any questions or would like to participate please contact either Brother Josh Manis or myself to find out where you are needed. We will also have at least two or three more Degrees this fall. I will try to keep everyone updated on the dates as we get closer. Please plan on attending to support all the new brothers joining the lodge.

Lastly if you are not receiving e-mails about the upcoming meetings and would like to receive them please call so I can put you on the list.

Fraternally yours,
Dan Hall, WM

FREE & ACCEPTED MASONS

Brethren,

As all of us have been brought from darkness to light, so goes the Lodge from summer darkness into the light of renewed work. I hope everyone has enjoyed this summer. For those of us who don't like it too hot this has been a great summer. For others (like my lady Kit) this summer hasn't gone onto her list of best summers. Cold water makes bad swimming.

Our annual picnic had a wonderful turnout and as summer winds down I find myself ready to resume the work of the craft and I hope you are all as excited as I am.

We have new brothers from the one-day class that I hope will be returning to lodge and we should encourage them (and ourselves) to attend lodge and take part in all that Masonry has to give. Hopefully, we will continue to grow our membership and bring more candidates to light over these next several weeks.

Let's return to lodge this fall with renewed commitment and keep improving ourselves in Masonry!

Fraternally,
Wayne Nix, WM

ROYAL & SELECT MASONS

Do you know anything about this?

That is my theme or slogan for this Cryptic year. It's a line from the Ritual I particularly love in the Royal Master Degree, my Inspection degree.

Does anybody here own a Subaru? Did you see the article recently published in the Plain Dealer covering the supply shortage of automobiles for Subaru? The article just reported the facts, not "the why". One might think that the Tsunami had "rusted out" their factories, causing shortages of parts. Not so, the Japanese overcame their "flood"

Have you seen those Subaru TV commercials lately? I particularly like the one in which dad is leaning thru the passenger window talking to his young, obviously under-the-driving-age daughter, who is seated in the driver's seat. It's a life moment that parents never look forward to, but know that it's "drifting" their way one day. Your baby is going to borrow your car and drive off without you for the first time. So, we hear dad giving his too-young-to-drive daughter the usual last minute pointers on his "safety" rules for taking the car out for a spin. The baby girl is smiling all-the-while. And dad is still holding onto the keys! When he finally hands over his keys, the viewer realizes the daughter was all-the-while a teen all-grown-up. It's an anxious moment for dad as he still sees his daughter as his "little girl". It's a commercial that makes me stop what I am doing to watch again. It tugs on your heartstrings. I might even admit that I had to grab for a tissue.

The theme Subaru wants you to equate to the commercial is dad knew this day was coming, that's why he bought a Subaru. Motor vehicles are the leading cause of death among 15-to-20 year olds. Subaru's brand core value is safety. "Craftily", Subaru pictured it for us with emotion, not statistics. Volvo, you had better pull over, because you can't drive from the backseat. The "kicker" for me is the very end of all their commercials. Love....Subaru. Love....Subaru. The balancing or equating of a strong emotion, love, to an inanimate object, an automobile is sheer genius. It's more than dad buying a Subaru for the protection of his precious daughter. In essence, one can discover love in a Subaru.

I'm not implying "parking", the urban and suburban slang for putting the PRNDL stick in "P" on Lover's Lane. Rather, I'm steering you in a direction towards what you love. Discover what turns you on. Get in the "driver's seat", no matter what your age is. The road of life has the right turn at every blinking light. So, get in your "Subaru", pump some gasoline at $3.99, roll down the window and drive away like it's your first road trip.

If you love classical music, park in Windermere Council on October 22nd for The Cleveland Institute of Music's program by Professor Dr. Marshall Griffith titled, "Mozart and The Magic Flute". If it's a love story you desire and/or you're a Civil War "buff", wax your Subaru and park in Windermere Council on February 11th for a real life enactment of the emotional love-sealed letters of General James Garfield and his wife Lucretia. Be sure to check your glove box for tissues before driving off on that night.

There's no need to upgrade your car stereo with speakers in the trunk, because the best in sound will be in Windermere Council on December 10th. Take a drive to lovely Chagrin Falls, where the Lights will be shining bright on the Square and in Heaven, for "The Third Annual Thea Van Horn Holiday Concert", featuring the student musicians from The Aurora School of Music. It's sure to be a night where you'll be reminded of your first road trip with the top down and the radio cranked up.

Love....Subaru. Love....Freemasonry. Love.....Turn on your directional signal to find the Vistas of your life.
